QUEEN VICTORIA

RUSSIAN RENDEZVOUS

VOYAGE NUMBER QV81

FROM THE NAVIGATOR

NAVIGATION INFORMATION:

Slipping our lines yesterday afternoon, Queen Victoria broke away from her berth and was manoeuvred away from the city of Stockholm. Negotiating the long pilotage out towards the open waters of the Baltic where our pilot was disembarked in the late evening. This morning finds us southbound in the Baltic sea, heading for our next port of call, Copenhagen.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Sunrise: 4.26am / Sunset: 9.11pm

NAUTICAL FACT OF THE DAY

PLIMSOLL MARK

During one of our stops in port, many of you may have noticed a mark painted on the ship's side at about midships, near the sea level. That mark is called Plimsoll Mark and it indicates the draught levels to which a ship may be loaded for varying conditions of season and location. The Plimsoll Mark can show up to six loading levels (tropical fresh water, fresh water, tropical sea water, summer sea water, winter sea water, and winter North Atlantic for vessels shorter than 100 meters). This mark is accompanied by another, consisting of a circle bisected by a horizontal line with letters which indicates the registration society (i.e. "LR" is the code for the "Lloyd's Register", whereas "RI" is the code for the "Registro Navale Italiano"). The horizontal line on the registration mark indicates the summer freeboard.

A Special Matinee Performance: "Murder on the High Seas"

At 2.00pm in the Queens Room, Deck 2

Queen Victoria presents "The Nearly Useful Theatrical Company" in a Sherlock Holmes Murder Mystery. "The Murder of the Master Mariner at Midnight on a Misty Monday Night in the Mid-Atlantic with a Mayan Machete." (Possible PG rated and definitely NOT recommended for lovers of good entertainment)

Martini Mixology

At 3.00pm in the Commodore Club, Deck 10

The Queen Victoria Beverage Team is proud to present: "Martini Mixology" Hosted by the Commodore Club Bar Supervisor Philip MacKenzie. Learn the secrets from the professionals while sampling four distinctly different Martini's. Please register on ext. 010600.

A nominal charge of $23.00 per person will apply.

A Stroke of Genius

At 8.30pm & 10.45pm in The Royal Court Theatre, Decks 1, 2 & 3

Featuring The Royal Cunard Singers & Dancers

This fresh and eclectic show pairs world-famous works of art with popular music. Andy Warhol and the Rolling Stones, Edward Hopper's American Realism with the music of Hoagy Carmichael and 40's swing. Ballerina's come to life from the frame of Edgar Degas' French Impressionist paintings, while the haunting song 'Vincent' pays tribute to the genius of Van Gogh. Innovative scenic design and cutting edge choreography bring classic works of art to life.

Royal Ascot Ball

From 9.45pm to 12.15am in the Queens Room, Deck 2

Join us for an evening of music and dance tonight. Featuring a special appearance by Dance Champions Giorgi & Pollyanna at 11.00pm followed by this evening's Hat Parade!

Cunard Insights with Destination Speaker:

Richard Grainger

At 10.00am in the Royal Court Theatre
"Royal Copenhagen-more than Hans Andersen's fairy tale."

For many, the story of the king's new clothes and the Little Mermaid sum up Copenhagen, but it is much more than that: it is a wonderland of islands, palaces, museums and gardens.

Followed by ...

At 12.15pm in the Royal Court Theatre
"Oslo: city of Tigers."

Once called 'Tiggerstad' or 'Town of Beggars' 'Tigger' was soon corrupted to 'Tiger' and 'Tiggerstad' became 'Tigerstad' or city of tigers a term of affection amongst a people who love their city, which is today the bustling capital of Norway.

Cunard Insights: Scientist Chris Davis

At 11.00am in the Royal Court Theatre, Decks 1, 2 & 3

"Once around the Sun – a year in the life of the NASA STEREO mission"

Launched in October 2006, NASA's twin STEREO probes have now been making detailed observations of the Sun and the solar wind for over a year.

As the twin spacecraft speed away from the Earth in opposite directions, they look back at our Sun and make three dimensional observations of the solar surface and solar wind. The Sun's surface is very complex, occasionally erupting and spewing a billion tones of material into space travelling at a million miles an hour. If an eruption sends such a cloud towards the Earth, it can damage satellites and disrupt communications on Earth. STEREO was designed to help us understand why these eruptions occur and to provide advanced warning as to when they might strike Earth. The radiation could prove fatal to astronauts caught up in such a storm and 'space weather' forecasts will be vital if mankind is to successfully colonise the Moon and Mars.
